In 2003, at age 50, my life felt meaningless.

But then I found metaphysics; the understanding of the 'invisible' energy from which everything is created.

The energy of the universe is eternal and powerful, with many strict universal laws.

However, just like a structural engineer must work with the law of gravity, we must work consciously with the laws of love for our greater good.[1]

ONLY LOVE IS REAL

When you can absolutely, with certainty, understand this to be the truth in your heart, your life will change for good.

The will of God is love†

So, when we can align ourselves with this divine truth, we are in heaven on Earth.

And, in feeling that we are truly loved, no matter what, we can realise our true worth and potential.

You will realise that you are the commander of your life with love.

Know the truth, and the truth shall set you free.

We can take full responsibility for our life with love as our truth.

This is freedom. True freedom. We are in command of our life with love.

God's divine love is all powerful, all encompassing, and all forgiving.

Our soul is eternally connected to the divine source of love.

Absolutely certain, immovable faith in this, is our only true need.
